Describe the nominee's qualifications, abilities and experience in relation to the position being nominated for:

Nominators and nominees must give very careful consideration to the requirements of the position for which they are being nominated. In each case, the elected position is one of high responsibility and trust involving much deliberation that often has a significant impact on the Diocese and the Episcopal Church.

Depending on the position, decisions are being made about new bishops in other dioceses, real property is bought and sold, potential new priests are considered for office, our own bishop receives advice and guidance, the financial future of the diocese is decided and major funds are committed, amongst many activities.

More specifically, as our primary means of communications is via electronic mail, nominees must have an email address that they regularly check; they must have dependable transportation to attend scheduled meetings; they must read the materials sent to them, before the meeting.
